Photos are representative (seed grown plants can vary a great deal).

SPECIES		V.01 Vanda falcata (formerly Neofinetia falcata) Seed grown, white flowers, multi-fan plants in 2.1/4" pot Beware of colored 'V. falcatas'. Anything with stronger color than 'Shu-Ten-Nou' is a hybrid.	$32.00
		V.02 Vanda miniata (formerly Asctm. miniatum) Seed grown, yellow flowers, young seedlings in 2.1/4" pot, 1½-2 years to BS.	$32.00
		V.03 Rhynchostylis gigantea Seed grown, in hanging 5" net pot, BS I have several color forms available, including red. Please inquire	$50.00
		V.04 Renanthera monachica Seed grown, yellow flowers with orange spots, one of the smallest growing Renantheras, suitable for home growers. Young plants, about 1 year to BS.	$32.00
HYBRIDS		V.11 Vandachostylis Lou Sneary 'Blue Bird' (Rhy. coelestis x Vanda falcata) , meristem, BS	$40.00
	Guess I never got around to taking a photo of my own plant	V.12 Vandachostylis Pinky 'FO Red' (Rhy. gigantea x Vanda falcata) , these are natural divisions, but I don't know whether the original plant was seed grown or a meristem. Flowers are near solid burgundy/red.
		V.13 Papilionanda Memoria Anri Bracker, JC/AOS (Papilionanthe teres x Vanda vietnamica) , natural division of awarded plant! Should be grown intermediate to warm, and should never dry out; light at least as bright as for Cattleya. Sold in hanging net pot with sphagnum/bark mix. BS division	$60.00

I have a variety of seedlings coming along, but they are a bit too small to go on the price list.
